MONDAY MAY 10.

The anarchists and communists are not honest workingmen. Neither are they of American birth They are to the land what pirates are to the sea.

There is very little in this country of which politics is not an element, but it should not figure in the least in the attempt to forever squelch communism and make boycotting impossible.

Mr. Charles Dudley Warner gives the Forest and Steam paper a thought which women will do well to ponder: "A dead bird does not help the appearance of an ugly woman, and a pretty woman needs no such adornment. If you can get the woman to recognize these two things, a great deal will be done for the protection of our song birds."

Mr. Atwood, the United States consul at San Domingo since 1882, though a colored man and somewhat of an offensive partisan, is not likely to be disturbed. He is said to have been an efficient officer, and so far as can be learned there's nobody so hungry for the place, as to make his removal an issue with the administration.

In his lecture before the Yale theological students a short time ago, the Rev. Dr. Burton spoke these words of wisdom: "I tell you, young gentlemen, a man must have a full head of steam on and keep his whistle open wide or a modern congregation will go to sleep over one of his sermons. Times have changed, and a preacher cannot preach an hour, and then pray another hour, without disgusting a congregation of the present day. You must so conduct your services that an hour spent in church will not amount to imprisonment."

An amendment to the constitution of the state of New York was lately proposed by the republicans in the legislature, which would prohibit the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors in that state. When a vote was taken in the assembly on the proposition, every democrat in that body voted against it and all republicans but eighteen voted for it. Of course there is nothing new in the fact that all the democrats voted against the proposition to submit the prohibitory amendment to the people. But how does this vote agree with the oft-repeated statement of some of the prohibition leaders that more democrats than republicans are in favor of prohibition?

The progress of southern manufactures, of which the Baltimore Record again presents interesting details, is indeed a most encouraging symptom. The Record goes on to say that it is worth while to observe that one great cause of this rapid development of manufactures at the south is the comparative steadiness of labor in that section and the infrequency of strikes and wrangles. Labor at the south is not so efficient, it is true, and therefore is paid less than labor at the north. Probably the entire difference in the efficiency of labor is balanced by the difference in wages. But the difference in steadiness and in freedom from interruption is an enormous advantage to southern industry. This year the strikes of bituminous coal miners and coke workers have greatly interrupted the trade of Pennsylvania, while Virginia and West Virginia have been steadily at work building many new coke ovens, and grasping a larger share of the trade. And now the producers of coke in Pennsylvania raise the price again in order to compensate for the losses incurred in a long struggle with the workers about wages. Meanwhile in West Virginia the old rates are maintained, and the work goes on with the building of many new ovens.

The Chicago Evening Journal, on Governor Rusk: "Governor J. M. Rusk, of Wisconsin, has shown during the recent riots in Milwaukee conspicuous courage and executive capacity. He made no terms with rebel against the public peace, but declared war against them at the first revolt. Once having opened hostilities he pushed the fight with vigor. He gave the troops orders to shoot when the rioters charged on them, and to shoot rioters—not to shoot in the air. He had a gatling gun ready to open on their ranks if rifles had not done the required work. It may be significantly added that the gatling gun was not needed.

"Governor Rusk has shown that he knows how to meet a threatening emergency. In such a crisis what seems like cruelty is the tenderest sort of mercy. Dalliance with desperadoes and cutthroats only inflame their savage purposes and re-enforces their numbers. Decisive and severe measures are the best and wisest and are the shortest roads to peace."

Then the Chicago Tribune remarks: "The disturbances in Milwaukee have shown what sort of a man the Governor of Wisconsin is. He is the right individual in the right place".

The question having been raised as to whether the city of Milwaukee can be held responsible for the loss Mr. Allis has sustained by the closing of his works during the riot in consequence of the refusal of the mayor of the city to afford his workingmen protection, the Evening Wisconsin affirms that Mr. Allis may hold the city, or he may hold Mayor Wallber personally responsible, and in support of this position it calls attention to section 930 of chapter 41 of the revised statutes of Wisconsin which provides that no person shall be entitled to recover for property damage caused by any mob or riot unless he shall have "immediately notified the mayor of the city or the sheriff of the county after being apprised of any threat or attempt to destroy or injure his property." That condition was met by Mr. Allis.

The same paper then says that the same section and chapter further provides that "every such officer [mayor or sheriff] who shall refuse [to take all legal means] to protect the property threatened or attacked, shall be liable to the party aggrieved for the damages sustained to his property by reason of such mob or riot, if such party shall elect to bring his action against such officer instead of against such city or county."

General Master Workman Powderly has acted wisely in calling a special session of the various assemblies of the Knights of Labor, to be held at Cleveland, on Tuesday, May 25. The causes which have led to the calling of the special session are given as follows: 1. The rapidly increasing membership of the order requires changes in the laws which the general executive board have no authority to make. 2. The laws in relation to the government of boycotting are wholly inadequate to compel obedience on the part of assemblies that believe in boycotting for every offense, whether great or small. 3. The laws in relation to strikes do not give the general executive board power to interfere in such matters until after the strike has been inaugurated. 4. The order has become involved in difficulties with trade societies, and an effort is being made to create a rupture between these societies and the Knights of Labor. If this special session will give Mr. Powderly full authority to weed out the hot-heads and blatherskites in the organization, compel all others to yield obedience to law and order, teach them not to become involved in labor difficulties with other labor societies but stand upon their own platform, and urge them to abandon the un-American plan of boycotting, the Knights of Labor will grow strong in the confidence of the people and become a boon to the men who belong to the organization.

ABOUT SENATOR EDMUNDS.

There is a rumor coming from Vermont that an attempt will be made to defeat Mr. Edmunds for re-election to the United States senate. This rumor has been in the air for some time, but it is now supplemented by the statement that a certain prominent republican of that state will enter the field as a candidate against Mr. Edmunds Should all this prove to be true, Vermont will commit a blunder which will be a second cousin to a crime.

Ever since the campaign of 1884, certain republicans in Vermont, with the aid of a few hot-headed republicans outside the state, have been laying plans to defeat Mr. Edmunds on the alleged ground that he did not take a sufficiently active part in favor of Mr. Blaine. They do not doubt his republicanism or his splendid record or his conspicuous abilities, but they are mad because he thought that some one else beside Mr. Blaine should have been nominated. In other words, they propose to organize a plan, if possible, to drive Mr. Edmunds from the senate, because he does not like Mr. Blaine as well as he likes some other politician. He voted for Blaine, endorsed his nomination in a public speech when presiding at a republican meeting, but did not spend the campaign in speech-making for him, and for that reason he must be slaughtered.

The signs of the times tell the republicans of Vermont and outside meddlers that they must go slow. The time has come, if the republican party is to be put in good fighting condition for '88, when there must be harmony, when the leaders must pull together, when the masses of the party must have the strongest ground for placing confidence in the leaders, and when the jealousies and disappointments of '84 must be forgotten. But if they propose in Vermont and other states to carry the personalities of that campaign into senatorial campaigns and in the campaign of two years hence, there will not be a ghost of a chance for the republican party to win in the next presidential election, no matter if the strongest man that treds American soil is nominated. The republican party can't be boxed in the ears and then made to stand together when every man is expected to march shoulder to shoulder.

Mr. Edmunds is one of the conspicuous men of this nation. In ability he is foremost in the senate. In his republicanism he has no superior. In integrity, in purity of public life, in freedom from entanglements in congressional schemes that are dishonorable, there is no man in Washington who is above him. These facts must be soberly considered by certain scheming republicans of Vermont, and they should likewise be remembered by the officious ones outside of Vermont, who are giving encouragement to the movement to defeat Mr. Edmunds for re election.

BREAKS IN THE RANKS.

CHICAGO FREIGHT HANDLERS CONCLUDE TO GO TO WORK.

Malleable Iron Works Make Satisfactory Concessions—Riotous Proceedings and Fears of More.

Fatal Mistake of Rioters Who Wrecked a Drug Store—Sensational Statement in Court—Proprietors Who Refuse to Back Down—Notes from Various Points of the Battle Field.

CHICAGO, May 10.—At a meeting of the freight handlers Sunday after an animated and somewhat acrimonious debate, it was decided to go to the railroad officials Monday as individuals and endeavor to make some arrangement towards ending the strike now in progress.

Action practically ends a strike which has been a serious one so far as Chicago merchants are concerned. It was known prior to their meeting that many of the roads had made overtures of peace in a quiet way by promising to raise the salaries of the checkers, and others whose work carries with it more or less skill and proficiency, all the way from $5 to $15 per month, and promising to take all the strikers back if they would return in a body.

Late Saturday evening, after having held out for a week against the eight hour demand of the men, the Malleable Iron Works company concluded to grant their request, and sent a proposition to the committee having the matter in charge that the works would open Monday morning on the eight-hour basis, with pay for nine hours. A 10 per cent. increase on all piecework was also allowed. The 700 employes held a meeting in their hall, on the corner of Twenty-first and Hanman streets Sunday afternoon, and accepted the offer. The police are apprehensive of trouble in the southwestern district. Two lumber yards and one planing mill will be opened to those of the strikers who wish to return to work on the old scale of hours and wages. The police fear that those who do not return to work will be incensed at those who do, and that the result will be serious disorder.

There was almost a riot at Fourtieth street Sunday afternoon. An imported switchman went down to unlock the switch, and was greeted by cries of "Scab!" "Hang him!" by a crowd of over 1,000 which had collected. The switchman then threw the switch, and seeing the evident purpose of the crowd to attack him if they got a chance, drew his revolver from his hip pocket and put it in his coat pocket. This made the crowd madder than ever, and the police had to charge several times to drive it back.

During this melee a car link was thrown and an imported switchman was knocked down with it. After doing that they went for the "scabs" started back up the line and were followed by the crowd, which overtook them before the police could come up. One of the "scabs" was knocked down and fully 500 of the rioters attempted to kick him as he lay on the ground.

Roundsman Kelliher dashed the crowd aside and seized the man just as he drew his revolver. The "scab," seeing the man in citizens clothes bending over him, took him for a striker and fired point blank at him. The bullet missed Kelliher, who grabbed him as he shot a second time and disarmed him.

The "scab," bleeding from an ugly wound over the right eye, supposed to be made by the second bullet he himself had fired, was carried into a switch shanty, which the crowd surrounded, yelling, "Hang him! Hang him!" Captain Markay, with a squad of men, appeared from the Central station, and, gaining the switch shanty, found the yelling mob and stated plainly that he did not want to shed blood, but if the mob wanted blood they might have it. He then ordered the crowds away from the crossing. Reluctantly they obeyed until the wounded man was lifted into Wabash engine 1152. Then as the engine started for the city with both seats a deafening yell followed them. Where the wounded man was taken is unknown. It was the intention to remove him to the County hospital, but late Sunday night he had not arrived there.

About 9 o'clock Sunday night the Chicago & West Indiana switch shanty, Fourtieth street and Stewart avenue, was overturned and burned. It is supposed a party of strikers or their friends upset the shanty and it caught fire from coals from the overturned stove. It was entirely destroyed.

Two more of the officers wounded Tuesday last have died. Officer Flavin and Officer Sheehan. This makes five officers who have died as the result of the riot.

The Campaign Against Anarchy.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The vigilance of the police in looking after suspected anarchists has not relaxed a particle since the occurrence of the outrage that first induced it. The various stations contain the usual extra detail inaugurated a week ago, and a strict watch is kept along the street on suspicious parties. The anticipation of incendiary fires has caused citizens and property owners to be doubly on the lookout, so that no matter from what quarter trouble may spring, preparation will have been made for it. Sunday a man riding on a westside car attracted the attention of the passengers by talking loudly in defense of the socialists engaged in Tuesday night's riots. He proclaimed himself a rampant anarchist, and denounced the police for the part they had taken in suppressing the outrage. A police officer locked him up at the Desplaines street station, where he gave the name of J. M. Hart.

A third raid was made on the nest at 71 West Lake street Sunday by the police. In the hall up-stairs a meeting of bed-carriers was found in session, and the members were searched. Nothing was found on them to indicate connection or sympathy with the lawless element, and they were allowed to proceed unmolested. A few red flags left in the hall by parties unknown were carried away. In the saloon underneath the hall, kept by Albert Florus, three acknowledged red-hot anarchists were arrested and taken to the station. In the saloon was also found a copy of the platform of the socialists, which essentially embody the well-known utterances of Spies, Fieldon, Schwab & Co., together with a partial directory of "groups" outside of Chicago. The "groups," according to the paper, are in existence as far east as Holyoke, Mass., and extend through Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and neighboring states. The three men taken are George Bartels, alais Lorans, Franz Smidt, and Fred Banteen. A short time after they had been locked up, a man giving his name Charles I. Franks called at the station to see Smidt. When asked what he was, Franks admitted that he was a socialist, and that he and Smidt had worked together on an anarchist paper that suspended publication about a year ago. In answer to further questions, he said that if the intended parade had taken place he would have walked in the ranks and carried a red flag. He had scarcely uttered the words when he was hustled downstairs and given quarters in a cell.

TRIAL OF SOCIALISTS.

Mrs. Lizzie Holmes, an editorial writer; Adolph Fisher, editor and compositor; and Gerhardt Lizius, reporter; all of the Arbeiter Zeitung, were before Judge Rogers Saturday. An attempt was made to have Mrs. Holmes released or an immediate trial granted, but the judge declined and let her go on $500 bail. Adolph Fisher was less fortunate. Prosecutor Grinnell, when Fisher's attorney asked his release on bail, created a sensation by rising and saying with considerable excitement, referring first to the statement of the prisoner's attorney that he had a family to support: "So had the dead policemen killed last Tuesday night families to support. I want this man held without bail, for I expect to prove that this man [pointing at Fisher] was the murderous fiend who threw the bomb that has left their families without support."

Judge Rogers said the evident sincerity of Mr. Grinnell made him feel bound to take cognizance of his utterance, and Fisher was held without bail to the grand jury.

THOUGHT IT WAS WHISKY.

Lieut. Shepard, of the Hinman street police station, received information Saturday that a great many Bohemians and Poles who were part of the mob which sacked the drug store at the corner of Eighteenth street and Center avenue, Wednesday, were poisoned by drinking deadly drugs and medicines, which they mistook for whisky and alcohol. Several who made this mistake are reported dead, and a score of others are dying. On Seventeenth street alone there are five men dying from the effects of swallowing carbolic acid, while all around in that vicinity men are dying from the effects of fox-glove, laudanum, and arnica, especially the latter. Arnica smells something like whisky, but when it is taken into the system it is extremely poisonous, nearly always fatal. The police have not as yet attempted to make any investigation of these reports. An individual officer can not be sent into the district because he would be mobbed, while the poisoned man would be hidden away were a squad to march through the houses. Lieut. Shepard said Sunday night that he believed the reports are true because very little of the drug stock was thrown into the street by the pillagers, especially the liquid portion of the stock. He believes that the men in their excitement drank down everything that looked like whisky, and he is fearful of bad results from it. It will be impossible to make an estimate of the number who were poisoned until the present excitement is quelled.

Nothing is known of the whereabouts of Parsons, but the police think they will yet get him.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION.

There have been several important meetings of employers in this city, of which the metal-workers, lumber manufacturers and furniture manufactures were the most interesting. The mayor tried to effect a settlement with the metal-workers for the men Saturday, but failed. He proposed that eight hours for eight hours' pay, which proposition a committee of the strikers made to the mayor and asked his assistance. The manufacturers declined. They said they could not let their plants lie idle one-fifth of the time, and offered to show a committee appointed by the mayor their books to prove how much money they are making. This the mayor declined. The association made public a statement to the effect that competition with cities where the eight-hour rule was not in force was a positive bar to its adoption in this city. They are ready to start up, they say, as soon as sufficient men are ready to accept the old time and pay. The mayor was asked if he could protect workmen who might go to work, but responded that he did not have police enough to do that, and did not want to call on the militia.

The lumber men stand firm in their determination not to concede the demands of the men. Some of the strikers called on the mayor, Saturday, and said they did not average more than from 60 to 90 cents per day the year round, while the proprietors say they pay on an average $1.37½. This discrepancy is explained by the fact that work is not available every day in the year at the yards, the working time averaging about eight months in the year. After this it is claimed that the men get work at the packing houses and in the breweries. The men claim that the wages are from $1.25 to $2 per day for six months, and say nothing about the balance of the time.

The furniture manufacturers passed resolutions declaring that hereafter they will not employ any communist, anarchist, nihilist, socialist, or "other persons denying the rights of private property or recommending destruction and bloodshed as remedies for existing evils." They also insist on ten hours at the old wages.

Several of the employes of The Arbeiter Zeitung called on the mayor to get him to let up on the embargo of that paper. His honor said if they would publish a paper free from incendiary editorials they could go ahead without interference, but finally suggested that the paper be suspended for awhile, which was agreed to.

There is no change in the Pullman situation. The men have not received a reply to their demands, and order reigns in the village.

At a meeting of Chicago Typographical Union No 16, Sunday, a resolution was unanimously adopted condemning in unmeasured terms the heinous acts of the mob at the hay market Tuesday, May 4, and offering a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of the scoundrel that threw the bomb that caused the death and maiming of so many officers of the law.

Notes from Other Points.

Milwaukee is quiet. The last of the inquests on those killed in the riots was held Saturday, and the militia was justified by the verdict of the jury. Several more arrests of alleged anarchists have been made, and the militia were banquetted Saturday night by the ladies of the city. There were rumors of intended disturbance, but nothing of the kind was developed.

Cincinnati police say they have discovered that the socialists in that city are in possession of 600 breech-loading rifles, but state that there is no danger if parades are not permitted. There is intense feeling among the workingmen against the dynamiters and anarchists.

At Detroit E. W. Voight, brewer, has surrendered to rather severe terms. He is to pay his employes $2 per day for seven days' idleness, amounting to $490; a fine for being boycotted, and other items, aggregating in all $780. He also has to discharge those who went back to work before the strike was ended.

Bradstreets says that 150,000 men struck for shorter hours on the 1st inst; 111,000 secured their end without striking; 32,000 got what they wanted after striking, and the probably aggregate of those who succeeded with and without striking will be 175,000.

At Washington City the past week closed with a slight advantage on the side of the men engaged in the eight-hour movement. A number of the small master builders have acceded to the demands of their men. There is now some talk of a compromise on a basis of nine hours' work instead of ten, as heretofore.

At Cincinnati the strike situation remains unchanged. The men stand well together, and seem determined to hold out. The manufacturers, on the other hand, maintain the same position. The mayor has assured all men who want to go to work that they will be given full police protection. Four regiments of the Ohio National guard, with a strengthened police force, are at his disposal, and it is hardly probably that there will be any trouble.

At a largely attended meeting of Typographical Union No. 3, of Cincinnati, Sunday afternoon, resolutions were adopted denouncing the "red of the flag of the commune" as symbolic of anarchy and revolution as un-American and antagonistic to the sentiments and welfare of every true American.

The piano makers of New York, who struck for eight hours' work, have returned at the old scale.

THAT BUCKEYE SENATE.

The Republicans Take a Short Route Out of or Into a Difficulty.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 10.—The Republican members of the senate took the bull by the horns, Saturday, and ended the senatorial dead-lock, for the time, at least. The plan was all arranged at a caucus held Friday night, and when the Republicans assembled in the chamber Saturday, the first question to be decided was whether the special order, the Hamilton county contest case, was still before the senate. The lieutenant governor decided that it was, and business then went forward with a rush. Pavay moved that the report of the Republican members of the senatorial investigating committee which made inquiry into the October election frauds at Cincinnati be taken from the table, where it was placed for the purpose of being printed when the report was submitted to the senate. This motion was agreed to, and then followed a motion, accompanied by a resolution from the same gentleman, recommending that the report which was submitted by Senator Coulter and the other members of the investigating committee in the Hamilton county contest cases, and which recommends that the Democratic senators be not entitled to their seats, and that the Republican claimants be seated and take the oath of office, which was also adopted by a unanimous vive voce vote. The result was received with an outburst of applause from those present, although the programme was known to but a few, and the senate chamber was not more than half filled with spectators. The four Republican members came forward, received the oath of office, and entered upon their duties at once after being assigned seats on the floor. There was none of the Democratic members present, and it is not known at this time as to what course they will pursue, though it is thought they will take the matter to the Supreme court.

After the new members had been seated the senate proceeded to the transaction of business, and among other things passed a law which is in effect the Scott liquor law with the Ren feature cut out.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 10.—The fourteen Ohio Democratic senators who came to Chattanooga to escape the process of the sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio legislature do not seem concerned by the action of the Republican senators at Columbus in seating the Republican contestants by a viva voce vote. They state that the rules of the senate specifically provide that no motion can be taken unless the journal shows that a quorum voted. They state that it looks like a trick to entrap them into the state, so they can be served. They will remain here over Monday, and then probably leave for New Orleans. They state that they will remain outside of Ohio until Gov. Foraker adjours the legislature.

In the pursuit of the good things of this world we anticipate too much; we eat out the heart and sweetness of worldly pleasures by delightful forethought of them. The results obtained from the use of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic far exceed all claims. It cures dyspepsia and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. It is a perfect tonic, appetizer, blood purifier, a sure cure for ague and malarial diseases. Price 50 cents, of druggists.

Of the Best Quality.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredient.

Our Graham Flour

is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour taken its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.

The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of

STRENGTH, HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Than the dark colored rye bread in Germany, or the heavy loaves found in the knap-sacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

is a staple article of diet in the Eastern and Southern States, and should be more generally used here. In there a Yankee on the face of the earth, who has wandered so far from the hills of New England, that he has forgotten the baked pork and beans, the rye and the Indian meal bread, or the baked Indian pudding with which his heart and stomach were gladdened during the days of his boyhood. How cakes, Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems, and Indian meal puddings, with pork and bacon, were main articles of diet for the strong men and women who subdued and built up the older States of the Union. We offer to the trade, and families, both the bolted and granulated Corn Meal.

Especial attention is called to our

Minnesota Linseed Meal

It is excellent for dairy stock, and horses when fed with other grain.

PRESIDENT ON PENSIONS.

HE VETOES TWO PRIVATE BILLS, GIVES HIS REASONS,

And Was Prevented from Vetoing a Number Because of Lack of Time—Senator Frye on the Latest Canadian Seizure—The Telephone Inquiry—Gleanings.

WASHINGTON, CITY, May 10.—The president sent two private pension bill vetoes to the house Saturday, and in his messages gave his opinion of the practice of the house in such matters in the following language:

"I return without my approval house bill No. 147, entitled an act increasing the pension of Andrew J. Hill. This bill doubles the pension which the person named therein has been receiving for a number of years. It appears from the report of the committee to which the bill was referred that the claim made by him for increased pension has been lately rejected by the pension bureau on the ground that the claim is now receiving a pension commensurate with the degree of disability found to exist. The policy of frequently reversing by special enactment the decisions of the bureau invested by law with the examination of pension claims, fully equipped for such examination, and which ought not to be suspected of any lack of liberality to our veteran soldiers is exceedingly questionable. It may well be doubted if a committee of congress has a better opportunity than such agency to judge of the merits of his claim. If, however, there is any lack of power in the pension bureau for a full investigation it should be supplied. If the system adopted is inadequate to do full justice to claimants, it should be corrected, and if there is a want of sympathy and consideration for the defenders of our government, the bureau should be reorganized. The disposition to concede most generous treatment to the disabled, aged and needy among our veterans should not be restrained, and it must be admitted that in some cases justice and equity can not be attained without the charitable tendencies of the government in favor of worthy objects of its care. These conditions sometimes justify resort to special legislation, but I am convinced that the interposition by special enactment in the granting of pensions should be rare and exceptional. In the nature of things, if this is lightly done, and upon slight occasion, an invitation is offered to the passage of claims by congress, which, upon their merits, could not survive the test of an examination by the pension bureau, and whose only hope of success depends more on sympathy often misdirected than upon right and justice. The instrumentality devised by law for the determination of pension claims is thus overruled and discredited, and there is danger that in the end popular prejudice will be created against those who are worthy and entitled to the bounty of the government.

"There has lately been presented to me on the same day for approval nearly 240 special bills, granting and increasing pensions and restoring to the pension list the names of parties which for cause have been dropped. To aid executive duty they were referred to pension bureau for examination and report. After a delay absolutely necessary they have been returned to me within a few hours of the limit constitutionally provided for the executive action. Two hundred and thirty-two of these bills are this classified: Eighty-one cover cases in which favorable action by the pension bureau was denied by reason of the insufficiency of the testimony filed to prove the facts alleged. These bills I have approved on the assumption that the claims were meritorious and that, on the passage of the bills, the government has waived full proof of the facts; twenty-six of the bills were to cover claims rejected by the pension bureau because the evidence produced tended to prove that the alleged disability existed before the claimants enlisted; twenty-one cover claims which have been denied by such bureau, because the evidence tended to show that the disability, though contracted in the service, was not incurred in the line of duty; thirty-three cover claims which have been denied because the evidence tended to show that the disability originated after the soldier's discharge from the army; forty-seven cover claims which have been denied because the general pension laws contain no provision under which they could be allowed, and twenty-four claims have never been presented to the pension bureau.

"I estimate the expenditure involved in these bills at more than $35,000 annually. Though my conception of public duty leads me to the conclusion upon the slight examination which I have been able to give to such of these bills as are not embraced in the first class above mentioned, that many of them should be disapproved. I am utterly unable to submit within the time allowed me for that purpose any objections to the same. They will therefore become operative without my approval. A sufficient reason for the return of the particular bill now under consideration is found in the fact that it provides that the name of Andrew J. Hill be placed on the pension roll while the records of the pension bureau, as well as the medical certificate made part of the report, discloses the fact that the name of the beneficiary is Alfred J. Hill.

The other message vetoed the increase of pension granted to Abagail Smith for the reason that the law which took effect March 1st last had increased the pension as much as the private bill did, and he presumed that the latter would take precedence of the former, and thereby deprive the pensioner of two months' benefit.

SEIZURE OF THE ADAMS.

To Be Investigated by the State Department—Senator Frye's Opinion.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—The secretary of state has received dispatches from Consul General Phelan, at Halifax, and Commercial Agent Robinson, at Yarmouth, announcing the seizure at Digby Friday of the American schooner David J. Adams, Capt. Allen, for purchasing bait in Canadian waters, and the subsequent removal with her crew to St. John. The matter will be carefully investigated at once, and acted upon as promptly as the circumstances will permit.

In referring to the matter Senator Frye said he thought the situation quite serious. He said: "Canada claims that so far as treaties go we are living entirely under the treaty of 1818, and by that instrument we surrendered all rights to fish within their shore line, with the reservation to us only for the right to buy wood, take water, find shelter, and repair damages. These are known as the rights of hospitality. That treaty makes no mention whatever of commercial rights. This was simply for the reason that such a thing as commercial rights between us and any of Great Britain was not known in 1818, and there is no propriety in undertaking to determine by inference anything about such rights in that treaty, yet Canada claims to determine those rights by inference. The statutes of the United States of 1820, 1823, 1830, touch upon commercial rights and open our ports largely to Great Britain and her colonies. Andrew Jackson made proclamation to that effect in 1830. Of course there were corresponding provisions granted by Great Britain. We had for a long time been proposing the repeal of the navigation laws. In 1849 Great Britain accepted our offer, and by an act of parliament opened all her ports and the ports of her colonies to our ports to British vessels. A proclamation followed on the part of Great Britain, and one was issued by our secretary of the treasury. The right of our vessels to enter Canadian ports and to purchase bait and ice and anything else comes from this last legislature, and is without limitation.

Nothing Mysterious About Them.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—Surveyor General Julian, of New Mexico, writes to Commissioner Sparks, of the general land office, that the work he is doing in passing upon Spanish grants would prove very useful if congress could be induced to act upon it. Secretary Lamar has transmitted Mr. Julian's letter to congress, together with a letter written by Commissioner Sparks, disapproving of the house bill which proposes a special committee for the settlement of these Spanish grant claims. Large numbers of claims previously confirmed on the recommendation of similar commissions were subsequently proved to be fraudulent. Commissions are condemned by both the surveyor general of New Mexico and Commissioner Sparks as "unnecessary, inexpedient, expensive and dilatory." "Much unnecessary mystery has been thrown around claims asserted under alleged grants from Mexican and Spanish authorities" the commissioner declares. "There is nothing mysterious and nothing difficult in these cases." Two plans are suggested for the speedy settlement of these claims. First, confirmations or rejections by congress, after thorough investigation and official report; second, an amendment of the act of 1854, so as to give the secretary of the interior final jurisdiction.

Don't Think the Inquiry Paid.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—A member of the house Pan-Electric investigation committee, in an interview concerning the results of the investigation, says: "So far have found out nothing that the public were not already acquainted with. Those who looked for rich developments have been sadly disappointed. I am disgusted with this business of investigating everything that any member of the house may rise in his place and ask to have investigated. The proper course to pursue in all such matters is to have a preliminary investigation made by a standing committee, and require a prima facie case to be shown, before raising a special committee. Too much money is wasted on causeless investigation by special committees, and I think, unless something new develops, that the verdict of the public will be that the Pan-Electric investigation was unnecessary and not worth the sum that has been paid already on account of it.

Comptroller Durham Raising a Storm.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—A lively row is in progress between Comptroller Durham and certain bureau officials. Congress annually appropriates a large contingent fund for the use of each department, the law expressly providing that requisitions upon it shall first receive the approval of a certain cabinet official. The law of late years has become a dead letter, and chiefs of divisions and bureaus have made drafts upon the fund. Comptroller Durham's attention was recently called to the matter, whereupon he immediately disallowed all the amounts that have not been acted upon. The result was to call forth a storm of indignation from the officers in question, who, under the comptroller's ruling, are held personally responsible for the amount of their purchases, unless the heads of the department shall come to their rescue.

A Coming Notable Event.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—The veterans, Union and ex-Confederates, to the battlefields of South mountain and Antietam, which takes place May 17 and 18, bids fair to become a notable event. Gens. Bragg, Rosecrans, Doubleday, Dudley, Hunt and Newton, of the Union forces, and Longstreet, Lawton, Johnston and McLaws, of Lee's army, and many other veterans of rank and file, who were either the blue or gray, have accepted invitations and will be of the party.

Talked Over the Army Appropriation.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—The senate was not in session Saturday. The house passed the bill giving the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf railway the authority to build a road through Indian territory. A bill was passed increasing the pension of Loren Barrett, of Pennsylvania, to $100 per month. The house then went into committee on the army appropriation and the bill was read by sections for amendment. Without much progress on the bill the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Secretary Manning.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—Secretary Manning continues to improve slowly, but steadily every day, and his physicians now speak confidently of nearly complete recovery. His closest friends say he has no thought of resigning, and as yet has made no arrangements for his summer vacation.

COAL FLEET WRECKED.

Loss of $40,000 at Pittsburg—Natural Gas Pipe Line Broken.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 10.—At 6 o'clock Sunday morning about $40,000 worth of property in coal and barges was sunk in the Monongahela between dams No. 1 and the Point bridge. An accident, together with the rapid rise in the river, was the cause of the disaster. The river men had taken all ordinary precaution in securing their craft, but a float which had broken away from its moorings up the river drifted rapidly down, safely passed over the dam and struck a tow of eleven loaded barges belonging to the National Coal Mining Co. of Cincinnati. The line parted and the tow swung around, taking with them two other National Co. barges. Every one of the thirteen barges were sunk, and not until they had torn away twenty barges belonging to O'Neill & Co., jamming the entire mass between the piers of the railroad bridge forming an artificial dam, over which the water poured in an angry cataract. Eight of O'Neill's barges were totally wrecked, the remainder being rescued by the timely arrival of tugs. Sneathan & Wilson and the Birmingham company also lost three barges. The losses are as follows: National company, $18,000; O'Neill & Co., $14,000; Birmingham company, $2,000; Brown Sons, $2,500; Sneathan & Wilson, $2,500.

A quantity of the floating wreckage caught and parted two of the Philadelphia Natural Gas company's lines that cross the river at the foot of Ferry street; the gas escaped to the surface, forcing a column of water twenty feet into the air. A moment later the gas ignited from the boilers of a steamboat at the wharf, and an explosion followed, doing but little damage beyond severely singeing and frightening a number of deck-hands. The gas was promptly turned off and a serious fire among the shipping averted.

Getting Ahead of a Trickster.

A curious anecdote is related of a violin-maker so skilful in his trade that he could imitate an old violin to perfection. One day a fiddler, more eminent than honest, brought him a fine Cremona and said, with a twinkle in his eye: "I want you to make me an exact copy of this Amati." The maker knew to whom the fiddle belonged, and guessing the object promised to have it ready in two months. At the end of that time the player returned, paid the price, and received the two violins; but when he got home and examined them closely he found that both were counterfeits, the clever imitator having kept the true Amati for himself.—Philadelphia Press.

Start for the Train or Boat.

In good season, and don't forget to take with you Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will revive and benefit you when fatigued; will nullify the hurtful effects of water contaminated with zinc from the ice cooler, or stagnant and brackish; relieve indigestion produced by meals of uncertain wholesomeness, hastily bolted at all times in railway stations, and protect you from the influence of vitiated or malarious air and thorough draughts. To the traveling public this admirable safeguard and specific is tendered in a convenient and agreeable shape. An ordinary ship's medicine chest contains no such comprehensive and reliable remedy, a fact well understood by mariners. The commercial traveler, tourist, emigrant, miner and western pioneer all appreciate the value of the Bitters. It cures dyspepsia, costiveness, liver complaint, malarial disorders, inactivity of the kidneys and is a fine nerve tonic.

DROVE TO HIS DEATH.

A STUBBORN FARMER WHO WOULD CROSS THE RAILWAY,

Causes the Horrible Death of Himself and Family—Fire Ravages Ten Acres of Quebec—Destructive Storms in Iowa and Indiana—Accident to a Train.

INWOOD, Ind., May 10.—The fast express, No. 8, bound east on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway, due here at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, struck a wagon on the Main street crossing, instantly killing four occupants—John Wymer, aged 30; his wife, aged 30, and their two children, aged 3 and 1. The family had spending the day with James Alltafer, the father of the wife, and they had started to go home to Wymer's farm, three miles south of town. Henry Kline, a student in the telegraph office here, jumped into the wagon a short distance from the depot to ride home. When near the track he called to Wymer, who was driving, to stop, as the express was coming. He made no answer, but raised up and whipped his horses into a run to get over the track ahead of the train, which does not stop here. Kline again urged him to stop, seeing they were going to be struck, and jumped out of the rear of the wagon just in time to save his own life. As the wagon was on the crossing the train struck it, hurling it against the station house, breaking it to pieces, and killing both horses. The bodies of the family were horribly mutilated. The head of one of the children was torn from its body and rolled under the station platform, while the body was thrown 100 feet further on and laid on the side track. Several bystanders tried to warn Wymer, but he paid no attention.

FREAKS OF THE WIND.

Damages Wrought in Oskaloosa, Iowa, and Monticello, Ind.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, May 10.—The most terrific rain and wind storm that was ever experienced here struck this city about 9 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The wind played strange pranks. In a radius of 100 feet in many instances trees are lying in opposite directions, showing that there was a strong cyclonic tendency. The loss to property in the city and vicinity will exceed $10,000. Two large barns belonging to Jacob Vernon, at the extreme northwestern city limits, were destroyed. The First ward school house suffered a damage of $3,000. The Friends' brick church, where the yearly meetings of the society are held, suffered in a similar amount. The Mahaska County Agricultural society lost $2,000 by destruction of fences, stables, etc.

MONTICELLO, Ind., May 10.—In the track of the storm Monticello, Ind, about 4:30 Sunday morning, a cyclone passed over our slumbering village, demolishing shade-trees, bulletin-boards and out-houses. The direction of the storm seemed to be toward the northeast. It was too high to do any serious damage. Several barns were moved from their foundations, a portion of the roof was torn off the Presbyterian church, and the chimneys were blown off.

BIG FIRE IN QUEBEC.

Ten Acres Burned Over and 150 Families Homeless.

HULL, Quebec, May 10.—Fire broke out at an early hour Sunday morning in Alderman Landry's bakery, and, spreading rapidly, soon destroyed all the houses on Lake and Duke streets, and on Main street as far as Pontin's stone block, at the corner of Main and Slide streets, where it was checked. The area covered by the fire is about ten acres, and 150 families were burned out. The new postoffice, a handsome structure, costing about $25,000, was destroyed. The other losses are estimated at $100,000, on which there is an insurance of $35,000.

Two Railway Passengers Hurt.

ATCHISON, Kan., May 10.—An accident occurred Saturday evening on the Burr Oak branch of the Central Branch railroad, by which two passengers were severely injured and several cars wrecked. The train was a westward-bound mixed freight and passenger, one coach being attached. About a mile east from Burr Oak the freight-car next to the coach jumped the track, throwing the passenger-car on its side. I. F. Allison, of Kansas City, and W. W. Means, of Burr Oak, were the only passengers who received serious injuries, though all were roughly shaken up. Two freight-cars were also dragged from the track and damaged.

SOME MORE OF JEFF'S SAYINGS.

The Old Irreconcilable Home Again at Last.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—Jefferson Davis left Savannah Saturday in the private car of Manager Gibbett, of the Western railroad of Alabama, accompanied by the Warrior guards of Tuscaloosa, Ala., for Montgomery. At Blackshear, the first station from Savannah, a large crowd assembled, Mr. Davis said:

"LADIES, GENTLEMEN AND COUNTRYMEN: The Georgians have been so kind to me and have shaken my hand so cordially, that my right hand is nearly broken. I suppose it will recover, but it is skinned on the knuckles, all for the kindness that has been showered upon me, which I did not expect, and for which I am very grateful." Miss Davis then being introduced by Gen. Harrison, of Opelika, Mr. Davis said: "This is my child that was born at the close of the war, and is proud of being born under its flag."

If possible, the ovations grew greater and seemed to reach the climax at Thomasville, where 2,000 people had congregated to receive Mr. Davis. The people were wild, and strove to get near enough to the train to touch Mr. Davis with extended sticks. One lady exulted in the privilege of getting close enough to lay her hand on his foot. It was here he received a large souvenir of blue inscribed, "God Bless Our Chieftain." Mr. Davis said: "It certainly does joy to my heart, in the midst of all its sad memories, to receive this demonstration from the truest and noblest and grandest people that are recorded on the pages of history. It is the merit of our cause, which I recognize as the origin of this demonstration. History does not furnish an example of a people so magnanimous as they rally around a fallen chief and rush forward to him, instead of holding him responsible for defeat. That has been the case throughout my whole journey in Georgia. I loved Georgia before, but now I love you with an intensity which exceeds anything that existed before. Long may you live in peace and prosperity."

At Valdosta, a salute was fired and a band played "The Bonnie Blue Flag." Mr. Davis said he was glad the people of Georgia were prosperous in peace. Mr. Davis spoke at several points along the route and was received with much enthusiasm. Mr. Davis arrived here at 12 o'clock Sunday morning and at 12:10 o'clock left for Beauvoir, arriving there at 7:15 p. m.

TRISTRAM SHANDY'S FATHER.

Tristram Shandy, in the humorous opening chapters of the book which bears his name and purports to record his life and opinions, tells us that his father was at one time afflicted with sciatica, and that this affliction was indirectly the cause of events which had a most baleful and unhappy effect upon his own future life. Little matters like these often do affect the career not only of the sufferer himself, but of those by whom he is surrounded, and perhaps Tristram's subsequent misfortunes, even more than he knew, might all be traced to that sciatica from which his father, "a Turkey merchant—one of the most regular men in everything he did, whether it was matter of business or matter of amusements, that ever lived"—suffered all December, January and February. Sciatica and other diseases must be held responsible for a good deal that goes wrong in the present day also, and even an attack of indigestion in so august a personage as a President or King may lead to events that may affect the destinies of nations.

An attack of sciatica, however, from which Mr. T. E. Chatfield, a contractor and builder of Milwaukee, Wis., has recently suffered, painful as it was, has been attended with at least one good result, for which Mr. Chatfield is thankful, and that is it has shown him that there is a cure for the disease. Mr. Chatfield lives at No. 365 Eleventh avenue, and is well known in Milwaukee. To one who called upon him in reference to his case he told this story:

"Yes; I was afflicted terribly. I took some Athlophoros and the disease is gone. I will explain how it was. Rheumatism is not a new thing with me by any means. I had the sciatica for many years and tried many kinds of medicine without any relief. Of course, there would be times when I would suffer worse than at others, especially in damp and stormy weather. Last fall I had a very severe attack, probably the worst I ever had.

"I was so badly crippled that I could not walk and I could not get any sleep, except when the doctor would inject morphine. Then I would be able to doze a little while. I read about Athlophoros in the papers and decided to try it in my case. After using about two-thirds of a bottle the pain went away as if by some magic power and in a few days I was entirely well and went about my work."

"Did you have any returns of the disease during the severe winter?"

"No; nothing to speak of. I felt a little twinge in my right leg, but I attribute that to my leaving off the medicine so soon. I got well so quickly that I quit taking the medicine and did not really give it a fair chance to clear the disease entirely out of my system. If any sufferer from rheumatism is made sick by the Athlophoros in taking it according to the directions I would advise him to take smaller doses, but to stick to the medicine, as it will surely cure him as it did me."

E. L. Dimock, of the firm of Dimock & Hayner, insurance agents, East Milwaukee street, Janesville, Wis., who was so seriously afflicted with rheumatism in his hips and legs that he could not move without great trouble and intense pain, gives this as his experience with Athlophoros:

"I have now used one bottle of Athlophoros with the most satisfactory results, being almost entirely free from pain."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he does not have it in stock, be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. BECALMED AT SEA.

STORY OF A SHIP WHICH HAD BEEN GIVEN UP FOR LOST.

An Ocean as Motionless as Lead—A Cargo of Gunpowder Exposed to the Lightning of a Tropical Storm—Short of Provisions—Safe.

There was a scene of revelry and rejoicing out at a certain number on Polk street, San Francisco, Cal., the other night. The place fairly blazed with good cheer of a happy family reunited. The sailor husband and father, who had long been given up as lost and dead, had returned. The scene was the home of Captain John Dodge, and all the merriment was caused by the fact that the day before the bark Kuakaua, John Dodge master, which left Panama for this port on October 9, 1885, and not since been heard from, sailed as unconcernedly into the Golden Gate as though nothing unusual had happened.

"I've been to sea for nearly 30 years, and to be candid and tell you the truth, I don't think I care about ever going out beyond the heads again," said Captain Dodge, from the center of his family circle, to an invading reporter.

"How did it all happen?" inquired the reporter.

"AS IDLE AS A PAINTED SHIP."

"Well, it was this way. We started all right from Panama on Oct. 9. Some old tars warned me about going out, and said I would be sure to strike calms; but I wanted to get home, and we started. We hadn't been out a week before the sails flapped against the rigging in a dead calm. There wasn't enough stir in the air to put out a candle. The ocean was as motionless as lead, the sun beat down mercilessly. Was it hot? Well, I should say so. Matches lying down on my table in my cabin would catch fire by themselves and burn up. Then it took to raining. I am not stretching it an inch when I say that for three months there were not fifteen days of sunshine in all. No, you are wrong. Rain down in those parts need not be accompanied by wind.

"There was not a breath of breeze, except for an hour or so, occasionally, and then it came like a puff from a heated furnace. We just drifted about on the ocean like a toy. I do not know how we ever escaped. We had on board as cargo 1,522 pounds of powder, and it was simply a phenomenal dispensation of luck that we were not blown up. The thunder and lightning was simply horrifying. I never experienced such storms, and when streaks of forked lightning would shoot out of the sky, and play hide-and-go-seek in our rigging the way it used to do, I can't understand why that powder did not go off. I don't know what I ever did to deserve this kindness."

"Did you make no headway at all?"

RUNNING SHORT OF PROVISIONS.

"Well, as I say, we occasionally had a few puffs of air, but it required 115 days for us to sight the Galapagos Islands. They are only 700 miles from Panama. Why, for sixty days we laid off the Cocos Islands, and day in and day out we never lost sight of them—just drifting about within a circle of a dozen knots, perhaps."

"Did your provisions hold out?"

"Well, no. We began to get down to pretty close croppings, and I determined to get to the Galapagos Islands for a fresh supply. Luckily for us we met a whaler which had an overstock of food, and we took in a good store. The captain of the whaler warned me about going to the Galapagos Islands. He had just come from there, and he said he was glad to get away with his life. The islands are owned by the government of Ecuador, which sends out men to gather dye moss on them. There is nothing to eat on the islands except what is taken there. The class of men who will go there are a pretty rough lot anyhow, and when they are starved for several months they get a great deal rougher. The whalers said that the wild men on the islands had killed their superintendent, seized all the provisions on a ship lying in their port, and would have captured the whaler had it not put out to sea just in time. We concluded after learning this tale to give the Galapagos islands a wide berth. On Feb. 1 a fresh breeze sprang up and we made the remaining 3,800 miles in fifty days, you see. Our provisions had almost given out on Friday, when we were 500 miles from this port. I measured up and found we only had twenty pounds of hard tack and twenty pounds of salt beef. I decided to divide it into ten rations for the crew of ten next morning, but as the day broke we sighted the brig Selina, and she gave us a fresh store, which lasted us. Well, that is all."—San Francisco Call.

The Memory of Victoria's Gillie.

Last Thursday was the third anniversary of the death of John Brown, and that domestic is certainly not yet forgotten at court. Every member of the Brown family who was within reach is now in the queen's service, and even persons who were only slightly connected with "J. B.," have derived benefit from the fact. The office of linen-woman at Windsor, which is a place of some consideration and of considerable emolument, was recently bestowed by the queen upon a Scotch housemaid; and, when the persons who had been passed over expressed their wonder at the appointment (the post having always been held by an individual of some station and education, comparatively speaking), it was explained that the claims of the selected candidate were paramount, she having been the housemaid who had always been employed in John Brown's rooms. At Windsor Castle the rooms which Brown occupied have been rigorously closed since his death, and the queen has placed a large brass tablet in the bedroom, which bears an inscription relating how J. B. died in his room, eulogizing his virtues, and deploring his loss.—London Truth.

WEST INDIES NEGROES.

THE MYSTERIOUS AND DANGEROUS POWERS OF THE "OBEAH MEN."

Very Expert in Preparing Poisons—A Practice Imported from Africa—The Effectiveness of Ground Glass—A Shop Out in the Woods.

"Some of the Obeah men are very expert in preparing poisons. They have several kinds, to be used according to circumstances. One of the worst of them is made from the root of the cassava. They express the juice and allow it to ferment, and quantities of small worms are soon seen in the liquid, one of which taken into the stomach is almost certain to cause death. One of the worms is concealed under a thumb nail, which is allowed to grow long for the purpose, and the operator in handing his victim a cup of coffee or some dish of food manages to drop the worm into it. In Jamaica almost every negro has growing in his garden numbers of arsenic bean plants which are neither useful for food or handsome in appearance, but the beans are very poisonous. It is said, too, that a dangerous poison is made from the liver and gall of the alligator. The Obeah men are also too handy in the manufacture of narcotics. They could not procure opium without too much risk, but they know how to distill narcotics from various plants. Some of them seem to have a considerable knowledge of botany. They can find leaves anywhere that if put in a water vessel will make the water a deadly poison in a few hours.

POISONS FURNISHED AT LOW RATES.

"Kingsley in his visit to Trinidad picked up a number of cases of Obeah poisoning. He says the habit of poisoning did not spring up among slaves desirous of revenge upon the white masters, but that it was imported from Africa. Perhaps he forgot that many of the African negroes were slaves in their own country, with hard Portuguese masters. He says, too, and truly enough, that some white West Indians will deny the existence of Obeah, because they believe in it a little too much, and are afraid to have it known that they believe in it. There was an old woman named Phyllis, in Trinidad, some years ago, who was called an 'Obeah woman,' and who furnished poisons at cheap rates. She lived and ruled in a remote little village, where her supposed supernatural powers gave her such influence over her companions that she could make them do almost anything she liked. A large number of murders were laid at her door, but it seemed impossible to get any legal proof. Her acquaintances were too much afraid of her to tell what they knew about her.

"They understand too well the effectiveness of ground glass. We know it usually as a coarse powder, useful for exterminating rats or troublesome dogs. But they make a more dangerous poison of it. They pound it up between two hard stones till it seems hardly coarser than flour. In this form it is shaken up with water in a bottle, and really seems to dissolve. Administered in small doses this produces what is known as 'West India dysentery,' and if the doses are continued death is sure to follow. These bottles filled with ground glass and water are used for charms. One of them hung under a tree in an orchard is almost sure to keep the negroes away from the fruit. They believe that the charm poisons it and that they would die if they should eat any of it. A bottle of 'Obeah water' put under a man's doorstep is supposed to bring him the worst possible luck. It is worse than finding a white cock's head lying in the yard, with his beak pointing toward the door. When an Obeah man wants to give you just a mild touch of his supernatural power, he gets somebody to bury near your door a bottle containing a toad, a spider, rusty nails, muddy water, and other articles. They know how to work with corrosive sublimate; but that is not often used, because other poisons are cheaper and easier to obtain. A negro could hardly go to a chemist's and buy any of the deadly poisons without suspicion being aroused. In slave times, of course they never bought any medicines at all, for everything was furnished by their masters. So they fell naturally into using such poisons as they were familiar with in the fields. And some of these are deadly enough.

THE TRADE OF THE OBEAH MAN.

"In the old slave times, of course, the Obeah men, being slaves, had to work as well as the rest. But when they were freed they could use their influence over the others to even better advantage. They are generally now in some small business, very often keeping little shops, where their customers, of course, are wholly negroes. They sell any cheap thing there is a demand for, principally rum and fruits and sugar and poor kerosene oil and salt meats. To their profits from the sale of goods, which are often considerable, they add what they can make from the Obeah business. If a servant wants something to make his master appreciate him, he goes to the Obeah man and buys some nonsensical thing in which he has every faith. It may be no more than a few white pebbles, wrapped up in a package with some human hair; or it may be harmless powder, to be scattered about the master's sleeping room. Or perhaps a silly colored girl wants something to secure the affections of her lover. They have to pay well for those things. If they have no money the Obeah man will take goods in exchange; bananas will do, or cocoanuts, or some jewelry—any of the little things that negroes nearly always have.

"I visited one of those little shops kept by an Obeah man some time ago. He had hanging up openly some of the peculiar beads that are used at Obeah dances—the same kind that years ago the mere possession of was punishable with death. The shop was not in a village, as you might imagine, but alongside of a frequented path through the woods, with not another building within two or three miles of it. And I can hardly call that a building, for it was little more than a shanty, with a thatched roof. The proprietor of it lived in a small room partitioned off at the back, and the shop was in front. Why did he keep his shop out in the woods, do you ask? That was just as good for his business as if he had been in the midst of a town—much cheaper and more retired. You must have noticed all through the West Indies that a negro is never afraid of a long walk. He may be too lazy to do anything else, but he will willingly undertake a walk of five or ten, or even twenty, miles if he has any object to gain. He will not hurry about it, but he will go. I should not hesitate to send a negro on an errand that would take him five or six miles, for he would rather enjoy it. He would loiter along, pick up a little fruit here and there, and have a chance to talk with the friends he met on the road. So distance from his customers is no drawback to one of these little shopkeepers."—New York Times.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Rancho and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

—TID-BITS.

Briefiets.

—Fishing parties are now all the rage.

—The Guards and Rifles will probably be home to-morrow.

—A brass band, with an advertising dodge accompaniment was in the city today.

—The Chicago & Northwestern railroad are now receiving freight for Chicago and all points east.

—William Gillispie smiles brighter than ever to-day because of a baby girl, that arrived in his home this morning.

—Janesville Lodge No. 55, A. F. and A. M., assemble in regular semi-monthly communication this evening at Masonic hall.

—Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in Judd block, North Main street.

—The tones of a traveling brass band were wafted through town this morning, giving many the idea that the militia had returned from Milwaukee.

—Albuquerque (New Mexico) Democrat: J. D. King, with his son Harry, one of the finest looking youths that has been seen in this country for many moons, arrived from Denver this morning.

—The Concordia society will give another of their popular parties at Concordia hall Monday evening, May 17th. Music by the Arion band. Tickets 50 cents. ORDER COMMITTEE.

—Monday, May 31st, will be observed as Memorial Day this year. On Sunday, May 30th, the Rev. Mr. Peake, of Court Street M. E. church, will preach to the Grand Army veterans, taking for his subject: "The American Soldier."

—The funeral of the late Robert Godden will take place from his late residence on the Madison road in the town of Janesville, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Conover; of Trinity church officiating.

—Miss Stella F. Sabin, the optician, will be in Janesville on Tuesday, May 11, and can be consulted at the residence of Mrs. Battle, corner Jackson and Pleasant streets, from 12 to 3 p. m. She will remain but a short time and persons desiring her services should call early.

—Lieutenant George Scarcliff, Jr. who has been at Milwaukee with the Guards during the past week, returned early this morning. He says that in all probability the boys will not be home until Tuesday, as the factories, starting up this morning, need protection almost as much as ever.

—This section of country was visited on Saturday and Sunday evening with very heavy showers of rain. A vast quantity of water fell, but so far as we can learn no damage has resulted, although farmers are compelled to delay their field work, owing to the wet condition of the soil.

—The Beloit Guards left Milwaukee at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon, homeward bound, and will pass through Janesville at 5:55 p. m. They will be met in Beloit by a delegation of citizens and a brass band. The Janesville companies will probably start for home to-morrow at 2:45 p. m., and will arrive at 5:55 p. m.

—The entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Congregational church, is to be one week from to-night. A very attractive programme is to be presented for the ladies having the affair in charge have had much experience in such matters, and will spare no efforts to make this the most enjoyable affair of the season.

—From the Watertown Gazette we learn that on last Tuesday Isaac Connors, of this city and Miss Julia Hartnett, of Watertown were married in St. Bernard's church by the Rev. P. W. Condon. The groom is well known in this city, being a son of Mr. Patrick Connors; while the bride is a young lady who is spoken of very highly by all who know her.

—The base ball season is opening and during the past few days Marshal Hogan has been warning the boys not to play on the streets. One third ward boy disregarded the marshal's admonition, and while trying to stop a swift liner the ball struck him fairly in the face. He wont be able to shut his teeth together for some time to come and the chances are that he wont use the streets for a ball ground much more.

—Saturday night, the young man who struck a companion over the head with a billiard cue some time ago, was arrested by Marshal Hogan. He had been hiding since the affray, but supposing that the trouble had all blown over, came out again only to fall into the hands of the law. He will be brought up in the municipal court today it the complainant, who lives eight miles out in the country, can be brought in.

—It was rather expected that the militia would be home to-day, but circumstances would not permit. The "Girls Glee (?) Club," of the third ward, continue to rehearse selections to be used in welcoming the warriors home; but the suspense is beginning to tell on them; abandoning "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," they have now taken up "Oh, Where is My Wandering Boy To-Night?" and it is said that "Let Me Rest Within Your Arms," is also sung with great feeling.

—A few days ago we spoke of the dangerous illness of Henry Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watson. For some time it had been realized by his friends that he could not live long, and although he rallied at times the gain in strength was always followed by a relapse that left him weaker than ever. This morning the end came and his spirit left its abode for the home everlasting. The deceased was well known in this city and his death will be deeply regretted. A notice of the funeral will be given hereafter.

—Last evening the public park in the second ward was fairly dotted with tennis sets and players. It was noticed that poor games were the rule, where a lady and gentleman participated on either side of the net, as the couples played so closely together as to be unable to cover the ground effectively.—Beloit Free Press. Our public parks are put to a better use at this time; they are given over to house cleaners, who occupy the green swards to clean carpets, etc. Nothing like being accommodating with public property.

—Chicago Mail:—"The red flag is no friend to labor. It never has been and never can be its banner. On the contrary it is and must continue to be the ensign of disorder—its greatest foe. Treason never erected a more hateful standard. It means more than the overthrow of a government. It means the destruction of society. It leads to ruin, rapine, murder, death. The red flag is not raised here or elsewhere by men who are or care to be American citizens. It is time, then, for toiling American citizens, native born and naturalized, to frown upon it and refuse to have it flaunted longer in their faces. Its toleration is an insult to their loyalty, as well as a menace to their safety."

—This afternoon the municipal court was devoted to a discussion as to whether a dead horse that could be smelled for six rods was really a nuisance. Ex-School Commissioner Thomas Madden claimed that it was not; and said that there was no impropriety whatever in his having deposited an animal of that description in Dr. R. S. Melony's pasture near the Institute for the Blind. To this the doctor objected strongly. He had his agent make complaint against the ex-commissioner, and the evidence in the case was heard by Judge Patton this afternoon. No decision was rendered the defendant being given until to-morrow to have the cause of the trouble removed.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Hall vs. the Rock River Paper Co.—The Corcoran Trial.

The case of W. T. Hall against the Rock River Paper company has again been opened. This time it is to allow the defendant to answer the claim of O. E. Merrill & Co.

The evidence in the case of the state against Martin Corcoran, of Madison, was finished Saturday, and to-day the arguments are being made. The case will go the jury this afternoon and a jury will probably be impanelled in the suit of Wymen against Drake.

Personal.

—Edwin E. Bates and bride, of Edgerton arrived in the city in time to spend Sunday with Mr. Bates' parents.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Russell, of Williamson, New York, spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Winans.

—Miss Lillie Yeger, who has been visiting relatives and friends at Jefferson and Fort Atkinson for a few weeks, has returned to her home in this city.

—Captain S. J. M. Putnam, Steward of the State hospital for the insane, at Madison, Sundayed with his family in this city.

—Will H. Doe, assistant cashier in the Home National bank, of Elgin, is spending a few days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doe, of this city. He will return to-morrow.

—John Shortacy, Jr., who has been at La Crosse for six weeks past, returned to this city yesterday. He has been engaged by Richardson & Becker, and will take his place immediately.

I have sold your medicine for rheumatism and neuralgia, Athlophoros, and have just ordered more of it. I think it is the best remedy I ever sold for rheumatism and it gives entire satisfaction. A. F. Graber, druggist, Warren, Ill.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 56 degrees above zero. Cloudy with east wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 68 degrees above zero. Cloudy with east wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 38 and 50 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 50 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 58 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 40 and 55 degrees above zero.

—THE GAZETTE IS ONE OF THE LARGEST AND BEST DAILIES PUBLISHED IN THE STATE; THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS ONLY 12 CENTS A WEEK DELIVERED TO ANY PART OF THE CITY.

Condensed Egotism.

That the efforts of the Recorder in its endeavor to give its readers the best paper published in Janesville are appreciated, is evidenced by the fact that during the past week fifty new names have been added to the daily subscription list, and it wasn't much of a week for subscriptions either. The books will hold a few more, and all new comers are as welcome as the flowers that bloom in spring. Advertisers should bear this fact in mind, and govern themselves accordingly.—Recorder, May 9.

The above squib would indicate that inflation is the life of trade on River street. The antics of this restless and never-satisfied organ are a little amusing, and frequently border on the ridiculous. With the accession of the late "Chronicle," one hundred and fifty-nine names were transferred to the books of the hungry and thirsty democratic journal. This little episode was followed by a matinee to the familiar music, "Scratch off my name," in which one hundred and forty voices melodiously warbled in the chorus, with nineteen yet to hear from. Many of the warblers found their way to the Gazette counting room, and chanted the following refrain:

"Are you going to sell out"?

"What are your prospective politics"?

To which was replied,

The flowers will bloom in the spring, tra la,
And wither and bloom again, tra la,
Before we sell out or flop, tra la,
And it cuts a good deal of a week for subscriptions, tra la,
For invariably the answer came,
Put me down for the Gazette, tra la.

Keeping Abreast.

Detroit Free Press: He was railfencing along Monroe avenue yesterday when he met an acquaintance and stopped to say:

"Shay! I've got bes' joke you ever heard of!"

"Get drunk before daylight?" queried the other.

"Who's zhrunk? Bes' joke you ever heard of. Shay, I went to my boss las' night and told him I wanted eight hours' work and ten hours' pay. Shud I'd strike on him foe didn't o-come to time."

"Well, what did he do?"

"Shay! Bes' joke you ever heard of. Boss told me to go to Halifax."

"And you struck?"

"Yes; walked right out. Shay! Tickles me mos' to death."

"I don't see anything very funny about that."

"You don't Shay, he! he! he!"

"Well, what is it?"

"Why, I'm my own boss! Shtruck on myself, you see! Shay, I don't let anybody git ahoader me 'fit takes a leg! Gooby, old daisy."

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Iowa Methodist, says editorially, in the November (1883) number of his paper: "We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that, by a thorough course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles, and catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Cream Balm too highly."

Tobacco Sales.

Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gans' Son & Co., tobacco brokers, No. 131 Water street, New York, for the week ending May 10, 1886:

400 cases, crop of 1884, Wisconsin Havana, 8 to 10½ cents.

75 cases, crop of 1885, Wisconsin Havana, 8 cents.

300 cases, crop of 1883, Pennsylvania, 3½ to 15 cents.

100 cases, crop 1881, Pennsylvania Havana Seed pt.

50 cases, crop of 1885, Pennsylvania Seed-Leaf, at 9½ cents.

50 cases, crop of 1885, Ohio Seed Leaf pt.

150 cases, crop of 1881, New England Havana 15 to 22 cents.

125 cases Sundries 6½ to 20 cents.

Total cases, 1,225.

"Good deeds", once said the celebrated Richter, "ring clear through Heaven like a bell." One of the best deeds is to alleviate human sufferings. "Last fall my daughter was in decline," says Mrs. Mary Hinson, of Montrose, Kansas. And everybody thought she was going into consumption. I got her a bottle of Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,' and it cured her." Such facts as the above need no comment.

School Report.

The following is the school report of District No. 2, town of La Prairie, for the month ending May 7th, 1886:

ATHLETIC ACHIEVEMENTS.

Schedules of the Base Ball Clubs—Myers Defeats George Again.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Chicago, New York, Detroit and Philadelphia are now the leaders of the clubs in the National league, the two first having six games to their credit. The schedule at the end of the second week is as follows: Chicago—games won 6, games lost 3; New York—won 6, lost 2; Detroit—won 5, lost 3; Philadelphia—won 4, lost 3; St. Louis—won 3, lost 5; Washington—won 3, lost 5; Boston—won 3, lost 5; Kansas City—won 1, lost 5.

In the American association St. Louis has a great lead with thirteen games won, Brooklyn coming next with nine. Schedule: St. Louis—games won 13, lost 5; Brooklyn—won 9, lost 4; Athletic—won 8, lost 6; Baltimore—won 8, lost 7; Cincinnati—won 7, lost 10; Louisville—won 7, lost 10; Pittsburg—won 7, lost 9; Metropolitan—won 3, lost 11.

National league games played Saturday: At Chicago—Detroit 5, Chicago 4; at St. Louis—Kansas City 2, St. Louis 9. American association—At Pittsburg—Cincinnati 9, Pittsburg 3; at Louisville—St. Louis 21, Louisville, 5.

The English Runner Beaten Again.

NEW YORK, May 10.—George, the English runner, came out second in the three-quarter mile race at Madison Square garden Saturday, thus giving Myers, the American champion, the championship of the world for middle distance running. The race was similar to that of Saturday week. Myers permitted George to lead until its last lap was reached, when he went ahead and across the line about thirty feet in front of his antagonist, and looking over his shoulder at him. Myers' time was 13 minutes, 13 3-5 seconds; George's 13 minutes, 14 1-5 seconds.

Notes.

The spring meeting of the Pullman Athletic association will open at Calumet lake May 22. The games are open to all amateurs.

The formal opening of the park of the Chicago Fair and Trotting Breeders' association (formerly Chicago Driving park) will take place next Saturday. An elaborate programme will be given and the new management promises to correct all the evils heretofore complained of. All through the summer there will be matinees every Saturday.

For the summer meeting of the Washington Park club of Chicago there are seventeen entries for the American derby.

Two Bodies Incinerated.

PITTSBURG, May 10.—The bodies of Charles W. Stives, of Winnebago, Ills., and the 3½-year-old daughter of R. G. Hillman, of Minneapolis, Minn., were incinerated in the same furnace and at the same hour at Sampson's Sixth Avenue crematory Sunday afternoon. This is the first instance of a double cremation on record, and was made possible by the use of natural gas.

What Came of a Spree.

PORTLAND, Me., May 10.—After an all day's spree, Frank Berry, aged 23, of Deering, went home Saturday night crazy drunk. His aged parents remonstrated with him, he seized an ax and struck his mother. After doing several hundred dollars' worth of damage, he was finally bound and brought to this city. Mrs. Berry will probably die.

The President on an Outing.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—President Cleveland and Col. Lamont spent Sunday on Congressman Scott's stock farm, on the Chesapeake bay.

THE RED FLAG.

A Letter From Dr. R. H. Treat.—Wm. L. Mitchell, Esq., Speaks.

To the Editor.

DEAR SIR—I enclose an article from Wm. L. Mitchell, which I wish you would find place for in your columns. Chicago has not passed her peril yet. The red flag has been flaunted in the faces of our people for several years and a democratic mayor has permitted it until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. And Gov. Oglesby has acted like an imbecile or coward. Thousands of our people sigh for an hour of the reign of Wisconsin's governor, Jeremiah Rusk, in our midst. His bold and prompt action in those perilous times has already made him famous, and demonstrated that he is possessed of the material that heros are made of. If occasion should ever offer, and he in place as now, his name would be handed down with the great war governors of Wisconsin and Illinois, Randall and Yates. Chicagoans from Wisconsin are proud of him and his bold and decisive action in Milwaukee. A few regiments under Governor Rusk's command would annihilate all the anarchists in Chicago before they had time to throw their shells into the ranks of our city defenders. Long may he live.

Yours,

R. B. TREAT.

TALK, TALK, TALK.

To the Editor of the Inter Ocean.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The blessing of geese saved Rome. The bursting of a dynamite bomb may save the country, unless the noise of the shock ends in talk and the scene of horror fades with the smoke and the groans and cries of brave men are lost on the air.

The socialists say arm. What do the people do about it? Talk.

The socialists say kill. What do the people do about it? Talk.

The socialists say down with the state, down with the laws, down with property, burn, rob, assassinate. What do the people do about it? Talk.

When a mad dog bites one or two persons it is hunted until killed.

When the socialists bite with bullets and bombs, and kill brave men who are trying to preserve peace and uphold the majesty of the law, what do the people do about it? Talk. Let us speak plainly; that time is no time for mere words. Here are tears for the dead and vengeance for the assassins. Let the guilty be punished first. Then what? Talk. I am almost afraid the punishment of the assassins will only be—talk. Some quibble, some technicality will save the wretches whose victims but yesterday were in full life and to-day are sleeping the last sleep. Mothers and wives, old gray-haired fathers are weeping over them, and the very trees are dropping tears of woe. What are the people doing? Talking. Let me be patient, very patient. They talked for years about slavery, they talked compromise, they talked and talked; finally, when the south fired on Fort Sumter, the north was so shocked they could not talk any more—they commenced fighting then. It was a question of one nation or two of the stars and stripes or the stars and bars. The question to-day is whether the government shall rule or the mob. Whether the stars and stripes shall be the flag displayed or whether it shall be the red flag. One or the other must go down. Who are these persons who carry the red flag, with the stars and stripes reversed? They are foreigners who do not even talk English. They are not citizens. They are the scum and dregs of Europe. They are a grade above the hyena in intelligence, with all its cunning, treachery, and cruelty. They are a dirty, greasy, lousy set of brutes, with a lot of jaw-breaking names that the owners could not read or write.

These are the kinds of beings, hardly human, that are vomited from the cellars, gutters, and kennels, and the galleys and prisons of Europe upon our shores. This should be stopped. These persons with sufficient intelligence to follow are led by shrewd, cunning, devilish leaders, who with lies and incendiary talk can make these persons commit any crime.

They are anarchists. They say kill, burn, destroy the church and state; down with all laws; down with capital; rob, and we will divide; use bombs and bullets. What do the people do about it?—talk. Let the bomb of Tuesday night be the firing upon Fort Sumter. Let it arouse the people of the United States to their danger. It was but an alarming symptom of the terrible disease. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. The vermin of Europe is to be found in every city of the United States. They will grow and increase in their filth. They are hot-beds of vice and crime.

What will the people do about it—talk? No! Fight these brutes as you would wild beasts of prey.

Why? They threaten the government of the American people. They threaten the lives, the property, the happiness of all. They would drag down our honored flag in the dust and run up in its place the red. They would establish in the ruins of the republic a reign of terror like that of France when the horrors of night were illuminated with the torch of the incendiary, and the streets ran red with the blood of citizens, and the noise of the guillotine's ax stifled the cries and groans of the victims. Chicago is what Babylon was; she may be what Babylon is:

"There is a temple in ruins stands,
Long since fashioned by forgotten hands;
Two or three columns, and many a stone,
Marble and granite with grass o'er grown.

Out upon time, for it will leave no more
Of the things to come than is left before.
Remnants of things passed away.
Fragments of stone reared by creatures of clay."

Shall the republic live? Wisdom and virtue build with the centuries; ignorance and vice destroy in a single night. The cities of the plains are lost in the sands which cover them like a winding sheet. The Roman empire has dwindled to a single state. Venice with its thirteen hundred years of freedom, "sinks into a seaweed." Marius sits upon the ruins of Carthage. Shall the republic live? The green moss creeps over the ruins and the dead. The ivy twines its leaves around the fallen tower, and Time writes above the ruins of empires and the graves of nations, "This is the end of all." Shall the republic live?

WM. L. MITCHELL.

Not If He has Horse Sense.

It has been very pertinently suggested by Mr. Scott Way, the eminent New York philosopher, that a man having horse sense should not ride with his head out of the car window and carelessly drop it at the opening of some tunnel or under some bridge, thus giving the conductor the trouble of telegraphing back for it from the next station. Neither should he sit down in a saw mill and whilst zealously advocating a protective tariff, lean back against a circular saw in motion and have the saw go through him and unbutton his vest, and otherwise remind him that he is in the way and thereby breaking the rules of the mill. Of course he shouldn't, but unfortunately sometimes he does, and the results are apt to be very embarrassing.
